Everybody needs it, of course.

Everybody is going to need it more in the future, too, when the earning capacity is less than during youth or middle-age.

The best way to be sure to have some THEN is to save a little NOW—a little at a time, but that little often.

YOUNG MEN'S NIGHT

To Be New Feature Tried by Board of Trade.

A new feature will be tried out by the Board of Trade this month in what is called a young men's night, to insure the fifty or more young men who belong to the organization to take a more active interest in the affairs of the community. The evening programme will be placed entirely in their hands to discuss some civic topic relative to the betterment of Willimantic. A committee of eight headed by Robert O. Branch was appointed to have charge of the affair. Others taken from Tuesday's regular monthly meeting was the selection of a committee to inform themselves as to the advisability of a trade school, legislation and report at the next annual meeting. A committee was also appointed to investigate the bill now pending before the general assembly in which the town and city might be interested and report on the same at the March meeting.

A protest was entered against any change in the present laws relative to stamped return envelopes, and the secretary was directed to take action.

Following the business meeting, George Wilcox, one of the associates of the town, well posted on tax legislation, gave an interesting talk on the duty and troubles of the citizen. His action and some of the pending bills in reference to tax reform before the general assembly. Willimantic is greatly interested in these matters and the high valuation of its property and Dr. Wilcox received close attention in his able survey of conditions. He answered many questions at the close of his talk and was given a rising vote of thanks for his interesting address.

(Special to The Bulletin.)
Hartford, Feb. 2.—Immediately after the adjournment of the legislature Tuesday, a resolution was adopted and immediately transferred to the senate which authorized the comptroller to draw his order on the treasury for $11,158.50 on account of the sum to be paid the legislators. This given to each member his January stipend of $111.59 and one round trip mileage. Then followed the reading of a mass of business from the senate, all of which was referred to committees for hearing and subsequent action by the general assembly.

Due perhaps to unfavorable weather conditions, there was hardly a quorum present, but the business of the house went on, the question of quorum not being raised. The senate adjourned for the day.

A resolution providing for the printing of one thousand additional copies of the report of Miss Charlotte Johnson, Holloway of New London as inspector entitled The Bureau of Labor and Industry of Wage Earning Women and Girls was taken from the table on motion of Mr. Beck of Killingly.

He said the report was the most complete, interesting and authoritative ever issued by any state department, and contains information of inestimable value, a credit to the lady who made the report and to the department of labor and the state. He stated that the edition had been entirely exhausted and made motion that 1,000 copies more be printed, and the motion prevailed without opposition, and under suspension of the rules. The resolution was ordered transferred to the engrossing clerk for immediate action.

County Commissioners.
The house concurred with the senate in the rejection of the resolution appointing as county commissioners Dennis Mulvihill of Fairfield county, Michael D. O'Connell of Tolland county, Leobard E. Smith of Windham and William J. Bissell of Litchfield. There was concurrence with the senate in the election of Joseph B. Waldron of Cheshire and James Geddes of Waterbury, commissioners for New Haven county, and E. H. Cortiss of Thompson for Willimantic county.

Resolutions were passed favorably to the appointment of John Eades, deputy judge of the town court of Branford, and John H. Kirkham, assistant judge of the city court of New Britain.

Minor Judgeship Appointments.
The calendar resolutions appointing High Young judge of the town court of Enfield, William B. Colt judge and Lewis Crandall assistant judge of the city and police court of New London, James A. Stone judge of police court of Branford, and John Eades, deputy judge of the town court of Branford were passed.

For Friday Sessions.
Mr. Hays of Manchester reminded the members that there was distinct understanding at the opening that every effort should be made to have a quorum present in order to get over on Friday. He advised that the several committees assign hearings for Friday of next week.
